

BROWN'S MINI STORE

Sales & Performance Analysis

Outlets · Categories · SKUs · Strategy

BY: ADEBISI FAROUK
DATA ANALYST/BUSINESS ANALYST

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Key metrics and findings across time, outlets, categories, and SKUs

8,523

Total Transactions

$3.69M

Supermarket Type 3 Revenue: Outlet with the highest ROI.

~$3M

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES: MOST SOLD ITEM

94.8%

Revenue Drop 1985 → 1998

Revenue & Resilience

Peak $3.63M in 1985 → crashed 94.8% to $190K by 1998 → recovered 873% to $1.85M by 2009. Sensitive to shocks but with strong rebound capacity.

Structure & Concentration

Type 3 dominates outlets. Fruits/Veg + Snack Foods dominate categories at ~$3M each. Top 2 SKUs (FDQ04, FDF38) lead by wide margin.

REVENUE TREND OVER TIME

1983–2009 · Peak, collapse, and recovery arc

1985

$3.63M

All-time peak

1998

$190K

–94.8% from peak

2009

$1.85M

+873% from low

04

OUTLET PERFORMANCE

Revenue comparison
across all outlet formats

Supermarket Type 3
$3.69M top performer

Supermarket Type 1
$2.32M -37% vs Type 3

Supermarket Type 2
$1.99M -46% vs Type 3

Grocery Store
$339 critically low

CATEGORY & STOCK KEEPING UNITS(SKUs)

PERFORMANCE

Revenue distribution across product categories and top/bottom SKUs

TOP SKUs

FDQ04 $784.31

Top performer

FDF38 $771.66

Near-top tier

FDY43 $673.79

14–16% from top

NCR42 $332.90

–50% cliff from top

KEY RISK: Revenue is heavily concentrated in 2 categories (~$6M combined) and 2 SKUs. Seafood ($149K) generates 20× less than top categories ; Shelf space reallocation is the fastest margin recovery lever.

STRATEGIC RECOMMENDATIONS

5 evidence-based actions to drive growth, reduce risk, and fix underperformance

01

Expand Type 3

60–70% of budget

02

Strengthen Core Categories

+10–15% basket

03

Develop
Second-Tier
SKUs

+10% uplift

04

Test Grocery Channel

25–40% benchmark

05

Optimise Low Categories

+15% or reallocate

RECOMMENDATIONS 01 & 02

01 Expand Supermarket Type 3

WHY IT MATTERS

Type 3 generates $3.69M Outperforming Type 1 by ~59% and Type 2 by ~85%. It is the most efficient revenue-generating format and strongest candidate for scalable growth.

ACTIONS

- Prioritise Type 3 in next budget cycle (60–70% of expansion budget)
- Comparative pricing, product mix & layout analysis vs. other formats within 30 days
- Direct all promotional resources to this outlet as primary growth vehicle

TARGET: Scalable high-revenue model replicated across locations

02 Strengthen Core Revenue Categories

WHY IT MATTERS

Fruits & Vegetables and Snack Foods each generate ~$3M Over 20× higher than Seafood ($149K). These are critical pillars of revenue stability.

ACTIONS

- Increase shelf space allocation by 20–30% across all outlets
- Launch bundled promotions targeting +10–15% average basket value within 30 days
- Monitor KPIs: category revenue growth (+10–15%), inventory turnover, basket size

TARGET: +10–15% increase in average basket value

RECOMMENDATIONS 03, 04 & 05

03

Develop Second-Tier SKUs

WHY IT MATTERS

FDQ04 & FDF38 dominate. NCR42 sits ~50% lower a sharp cliff revealing high dependency risk and untapped growth.

ACTIONS

- Cross-merchandising with top SKUs → +10% uplift
- Pricing/discount trials (5–10%) to test demand sensitivity

TARGET: +10% visibility-driven sales uplift

04

Test Grocery Store Channel

WHY IT MATTERS

At $339.83, this channel is <10% of Type 3 revenue Suggesting misallocated inventory and staffing resources.

ACTIONS

- 2-month performance test
- Benchmark: +25–40% revenue growth
- Reallocate 30–50% of resources if target not met

TARGET: 25–40% growth or resource reallocation

05

Optimise Low- Performing Categories

WHY IT MATTERS

Seafood ($149K) generates 20× less than top categories inefficient use of shelf space and working capital.

ACTIONS

- Reduce inventory 20–40% in test outlets
- Reallocate shelf space to top performers
- Run targeted promotions target +15% before further cuts

TARGET: +15% recovery or full shelf reallocation

IMPLEMENTATION TIMELINE

A phased 12-month roadmap from quick wins to sustained growth

KEY TAKEAWAYS

Real Resilience. Clear Growth Levers.

The business has proven it can recover. The data shows exactly where to act.

Resilient Core

873% recovery from 1998 lows. The fundamentals are sound Shocks are survivable.

Concentrated Strengths

Type 3 + Fruits/Veg + Snack Foods = the growth engine. Invest here first.

Fixable Drains

Grocery Store + Seafood are solvable. Structural changes unlock profit in 180 days.